

Motivational Interviewing 1 & 2 Online Course

Multidisciplinary Workshop May 28th – 29th & June 4th – 5th [part days] 2026

Workshop Facilitator: Tara Crow PACFA Reg Clinical & APD

About the Workshop Series

This live, online workshop series aims to provide the essential start-up knowledge for practising effective behaviour change counselling in the form of Motivational Interviewing. Delivered over two blocks each containing two, half-day sessions, the course is suitable for all health/counselling professionals working with clients' health related behaviours. The workshop series provides essential MI theory imbedded in evidence based experiential learning. The training format includes paired experientials, video & live demonstrations, real life scenarios delivered to an interactive small group (16-18). Attendees are supported to reflect on their work throughout the training, to integrate practical, applicable learning and affirm their unique developing skill base. Attendees leave with skills that they feel ready and excited to implement and experiment with. The workshop embodies the 'Spirit' of MI by respecting the experience, ideas and learning autonomy of participants. Registrants are required to commit to attending all 4 workshops in full via webcam. A secure internet connection and private location are essential for attendance. The program is not recorded.

MI 1 Block 28th – 29th Learning Overview

- Identify & experience roadblocks to facilitating client change in an advisory counselling model
- Describe and demonstrate the 'Spirit' of MI
- Identify and practice the components of OARS: the micro-skills of MI
- Describe the effective delivery of client centered information and advice
- Practice MI spirit and skill in a real-life behavior change counselling session

MI 2 Block 4th – 5th Learning Overview

- Name the Four Tasks of MI & demonstrate specific skills for each stage
- Identify Evoking as a key process in MI and describe why it is integral to effective health behaviour change counselling
- Identify and work with Change Talk, Sustain Talk and Discord (resistance)
- Understand why clients 'become resistant', how MI reframes this and work with tools that can help your clients more effectively

Enhance your confidence in this vital area of health care so that you can engage clients in good conversations that matter

Feedback from participants

This training is fantastic if you're feeling like you're struggling to motivate your clients to change..... This training has shifted my perspective and given me hope for interactions that are more in line with my values and and won't leave me feeling burnt out. GS Dietitian

This training changed my way of thinking about practice. Do it, do it, do it! Anon Participant

It'll blow your mind if you haven't practised clinically like this before! LS Podiatrist
